TEEN CONVICTED OF BRUTAL RAPES

By Russ Lawrence

russ.lawrence@nlhnews.co.uk

A TOTTENHAM teenager, who brutally beat and raped two women strangers at knifepoint in broad daylight before robbing them, is facing a lengthy jail sentence.

Dylan McDonald, of St Ann's Road, was 18 when he subjected his terrified victims to what a detective described as "truly horrific attacks" in a South Tottenham street and in the grounds of Alexandra Palace in March this year.

McDonald, now 19, was convicted by a jury at Wood Green Crown Court last Tuesday of rape, robbery and serious assault.

Jurors heard how he had targeted his first victim – a woman in her 50s – as she was on her way home from work in Southey Road, South Tottenham, at 2.30pm on March 11.

He threatened her with a knife, forced her into a stairwell and stole her two mobile phones before demanding sex and raping her twice at knifepoint. McDonald repeatedly punched his victim in the face before fleeing.

Three days later, the court was told, he attacked his second victim, a woman in her 30s, who had been walking in the grounds of Alexandra Palace at about 4pm on March 14.

He cycled towards her, produced a 30-centimetre-long knife, grabbed her and demanded her rucksack.

As his terrified victim struggled to remove the rucksack, he became impatient and stabbed her in the leg. As she fell to the ground in pain, he removed her watch and took her mobile phone, money and house keys.

He then dragged the woman into undergrowth, where he raped her twice at knifepoint.

The injuries he inflicted on both his victims required hospital treatment.

Detectives from the Metropolitan Police Sexual Offences Exploitation and Child Abuse Command linked the two rapes because the description of the rapist, the type of knives used and the robbery and rape motive matched.

McDonald was arrested at his home later on the same day of the second attack.

During a search of his bedroom police found blood-stained clothing and a blood-stained pair of jeans with a tear to the left leg which his second victim had described.

Also recovered was the first victim's stolen property, plus two silver kitchen knives.

Forensic tests later matched the blood on one of the knives to the second victim.

McDonald, who had no previous convictions, except for a caution, refused to cooperate when being interviewed.

Despite the overwhelming evidence against him he pleaded not guilty – subjecting his traumatised victims to give evidence in court.

He is due to be sentenced on October 7.

Police appeal after shooting

DETECTIVES seeking two masked gunmen who shot one of the occupants of a minicab they ambushed, have issued dramatic video footage and images of two men they want to quiz.

Armed police were called to reports of a shooting in Champa Close, Tottenham, a cul-de-sac, at 11.30pm on Saturday, July 23, but found no signs of anyone injured or anything suspicious.

It was only later, in the early hours of the following day, they were informed that a 35-year-old man had been brought to an east London hospital suffering from a gunshot wound.

Subsequent inquiries revealed he had been dragged out of a minicab in Champa Close by two balaclava-clad suspects, who shot him before robbing the minicab driver at gunpoint.

Both attackers made off towards Bruce Grove railway station and were last seen in Lordship Lane.

Detectives are appealing for witnesses and information from the public and have issued descriptions of the two suspects.

One is described as white or Mediterranean looking and was wearing a balaclava, a black winter coat and trainers.

The other is described as a black man dressed in a balaclava and dark clothing.

Anyone with information should contact Trident detectives on 020 8358 0608, or Crimestoppers anonymously on 0800 555 111.

Church's opening marks 'significant milestone', declares bishop

A NEW church has been opened by the capital's leading Anglican clergyman opposite the spot where five years ago the shooting dead of Mark Duggan by armed police sparked the London riots.

The Bishop of London, the Rt Rev Richard Chartres, officially opened a new multi-purpose building in Tottenham Hale, which the Engine Room community centre and St Francis Church will share.

The facility is at the heart of Hale Village – the 12-acre waterside development housing more than 6,500 residents in social and private sector housing beside the River Lea. The Anglican church is the first to be built in the capital for 40 years.

The Diocese of London has spearheaded the project to provide a community resource and place of worship, working in partnership with Hale Village developer Lee Valley Estates, the Newlon Housing Trust and London City Mission.

Full steam ahead: The Bishop of London and MP David Lammy are given a tour of new Engine Room and St Francis Church building in Hale Village, Tottenham

The Engine Room community centre had been operating from temporary premises nearby for the past two years.

Its new permanent home includes a 24-space nursery, a café, two community halls, a learning workshop and a chapel for prayer and worship.

Among the dignitaries who were given a guided tour of the new building was Tottenham MP David Lammy.

Speaking after the keys were handed over, the bishop said: "This marks a significant milestone in the life of this important project. As the St Francis Church and Engine Room team start interior work on the new premises, the Hale Village community can look ahead to 2017 with great anticipation for what I know will be an integral part of community life in Tottenham."

Mr Lammy said he had taken a great interest in the project since its inception.

"The Engine Room vision to engage communities, foster harmony and build a real sense of identity in the Tottenham community is a vital one," he added.

Hospital chief looks for an improvement

By Julia Gregory

julia.gregory@nlhnews.co.uk

THE acting chief executive for North Middlesex University Hospital said she hoped a hit squad of inspectors would give the crisis-hit casualty department a "needs improvement" rating on their visit next month.

A surprise visit by the Care Quality Commission (CQC) inspectors in April saw the A&E department, which sees 500 to 600 patients a day, rated inadequate. Medical care, including care for older people, was said to require improvement after inspectors visited the Charles Coward general medical ward for men and T8 renal ward.

The acting chief executive Libby McManus arrived last month to lead the team after chief executive Julie Lowe went on leave.

The CQC issued North Middlesex University Hospital NHS Trust with a warning notice to pull its socks up and "significantly improve the treatment of patients attending the emergency department".

An action plan has been drawn up and the watchdog says it has to see improvements by Friday, August 26.

Ms McManus told the Advertiser that, although she would like to see the watchdog give all the services top ratings, she would be happy for some areas which are rated inadequate to be rated as requiring improvement.

Room for improvement: North Middlesex University Hospital's A&E unit has come under fire

She added: "I hope that there are areas that are wonderful."

The CQC followed up its spring inspection with a visit at the end of June.

Sir Mike Richards, the chief inspector of hospitals, said: "We have already seen some progress since that original inspection."

North Middlesex's medical director Dr Cathy Cale told last Thursday's board meeting: "We are doing work that is for improving patient care. That is not for ticking CQC boxes. We clearly need to make this sustainable. This is not a flash in the pan moment. We are working hard to get it embedded."

The General Medical Council had previously taken the unusual step of saying it would not send trainees to the hospital. It has now overturned this decision and trainees are due to start this month.

The CQC is keen to hear from staff and patients in advance of its visit in September and can be contacted on enquiries@cqc.org.uk or on 03000 616161.

Police release details of train tragedy victim

POLICE have released further details about the woman who died after she was struck by a train at Enfield Lock station.

She was 46 and died following the incident at about 10am on Friday morning last week.

British Transport Police and an ambulance crew went to the station in Ordnance Road before the woman was pronounced dead at the scene.

Lines between Cheshunt and Tottenham Hale were closed or trains were diverted via Seven Sisters. The 121 buses were also diverted as Ordnance Road was closed off.

A BTP spokeswoman said the incident was not being treated as suspicious and the woman's next of kin had been informed.

North London Coroner's Office said an inquest would be opened and adjourned in due course and a post-mortem examination would be held this week.

Trial date is set

A MAN accused of robbing an elderly, visually impaired man in Fore Street, Edmonton, has been sent for trial by magistrates.

Darren Neville, 43, of no fixed abode, was remanded in custody when he appeared at Highbury Corner Magistrates' Court last Thursday charged in connection with the robbery on July 2.

He is due to appear at Wood Green Crown Court on August 25.

Art déco cafe offers the right blend – and scoops prestigious award

Vintage stuff: Anna Loughlin, manager of Enfield Council's business and economic development services team presents the award to brothers Franco and Joseph Tzouvanni

A VINTAGE-themed Southgate coffee shop is celebrating winning a business "Oscar".

Brothers Joseph and Franco Tzouvanni, co-owners of Claud W Dennis, next to Southgate Underground station, picked up Enfield's business of the year award at a gala evening.

The glittering event was organised by the London Federation of Small Businesses at the Pullman Hotel, in St Pancras, last Thursday night.

Opened just two years ago in the premises of a former greasy spoon, the independent coffee shop occupies the ground floor of a three-storey building constructed in 1933 by architect and developer Claud W Dennis.

He would have remained largely forgotten had the brothers not stumbled across a treasure trove of period documents, papers, posters, stained glass windows and even a door marked "private" from the time when Mr Dennis previously ran his own business from the premises.

They decided to incorporate the original fixture and fittings and posters when restoring the premises to its former art déco glory and named the business after him in his memory.

And the vintage past is blended with the modern world with ipads for customers to use while waiting for their coffee and a special screen showing bus and Tube arrivals and departures, plus classic jazz and 1930s' music.

Judges at the awards bash voted it business of the year because it successfully combined "innovation and sustainability" and because of its community involvement being an active member of the Chamber of Commerce and the main sponsor of last month's summer festival.

It was presented by Anna Loughlin, the manager of Enfield Council's business and economic development services team.

"We are incredibly proud of the achievement and the recognition for all the hard work by our wonderful staff," said Joseph Tzouvanni, 30.

It was also the culmination of a dream fulfilled for Joseph and Franco, 26, and their mum, Mary, who had run a coffee shop herself in Cyprus before moving to Britain following the Turkish military occupation of the Mediterranean island in 1974.

Joseph added: "We used to say to her, 'You should open up a coffee shop' and it became a running joke as we knew she was too busy raising myself and my six siblings! She would reply, 'If you open one, I'll help you!' and her advice and know-how have been invaluable."

Front-of-house just the ticket for Simon

ACCLAIMED actor Simon Callow swapped starring roles for front-of-house duties when he manned the box office phones at Chickenshed Theatre yesterday (Tuesday)

The celebrated actor, director, author and musician was taking bookings for the Christmas pantomime Adventure to Oz after tickets went on sale at the theatre, in Chase Side, Southgate.

Before becoming a successful actor, the Shakespeare in Love star worked in the box office at London's Old Vic theatre in 1967. It was director Sir Laurence Olivier who advised him that working there would be a good starting point before getting into theatre.

"It was the making of me, I didn't know what to do with my life at all," Mr Callow said.

After writing a fan letter, he was surprised to receive a letter in which Olivier replied: "If you like this place so much, why don't you come and work here, there's a job in the box office."

At the time becoming a professional actor had not been a career aspiration.

"I didn't say to Laurence Olivier, 'I want to be an actor',

New role: Simon Callow mans the Chickenshed phones

I didn't have any idea about acting, it didn't cross my mind," Mr Callow admitted.

It was gaining experience in the box office and the advantage of watching theatre rehearsals which prompted his move into acting.

"I suddenly thought there's this wonderful world, with really interesting people who are involved in something that is exciting and important and very high profile," he added.

"I thought I want to be a part of that."

'Olympic hopefuls are an inspiration to us all'

By Russ Lawrence

russ.lawrence@nlhnews.co.uk

RESIDENTS are being urged by the council to roar on the borough's home-grown Olympic heroes when the world's greatest sporting event gets under way in Rio this Saturday.

And it is hoping it will inspire people to get off the couch, get active and try their hand at one of the 42 different sports which the 206 countries will compete for in the 2016 Games.

Seven of the Great Britain Olympic squad were either born in Enfield, live in the borough or represent a club based in the borough. They are:

- 2012 double equestrian Olympic gold medalist Charlotte Dujardin.
- Ben Maher, equestrian gold medalist in 2012, and bronze medal-winning high jumper Robbie Grabarz.
- Swimmer Chris Walker-Hebborn (100metres backstroke).
- Margaret Adeoye (4x400m relay).
- Desiree Henry (100m and 4x100m relay).
- Chijindu Ujah (100m and 4x100m relay).

Enfield Town, painted by the Royal Mail in honour of Dujardin's achievements in the 2012 London Olympics.

She explained: "The Olympics is a global festival of sport and our borough is brilliantly represented by a wide selection of competitors across a range of incredibly demanding disciplines."

"The best bit is once you feel suitably inspired you can try out the vast majority of these disciplines in Enfield.

"We want everyone to back Enfield's sporting heroes and the rest of Team GB as they search for glory on the ultimate sporting stage and I urge residents to use their exploits as inspiration to get up and about, be more active and embrace a healthier lifestyle."

If you are a denture wearer then this article may be of some interest to you!! If you can relate to any of the following questions then it is a sign your denture needs attention:

DO YOU FIND YOUR DENTURES:

- Do not fit as well on your gums as they used to?
- Are they loose?
- Do not cut food as well as they used to?
- Do they make your face look older?
- Have discoloured despite meticulous cleaning or
- Cause discomfort/pain on chewing?

If any of the above breeds familiar territory then I may be able to alleviate some of these problems for you.

My name is Caroline Persaud I am a qualified CLINICAL DENTAL TECHNICIAN. Many of you may be aware of Dental Technicians/Mechanics who repair and produce dentures for dentists, however, due to recent changes in the Dental law, a group of Dental Care Professionals known as Clinical Dental Technicians have been approved by the General Dental Council and can now see denture wearers who have no natural teeth remaining, directly without having to visit a dentist.

The advantages to you, the patients, are numerous. You can be treated by a professional who has been clinically trained to undertake the impressions of your mouth and who also has the technical skill to manufacture your denture to meet your requirements.

Ab-solutely fabulous

THEY sang, they danced, they got the joint jumpin'...and that was just the audience at the annual Livestock summer music festival on Saturday.

The thousands of revellers who flocked to Enfield's mini-version of Glastonbury at Forty Hall Farm, in Forty Hill, came intending to have fun and enjoy the genuine music festival experience.

And the 24 bands and artists who performed across three stages didn't let them down.

"This was Livestock's fifth year and it was the best ever," said festival organiser Leon Wilkin.

"It was absolutely brilliant. The sun shone and the atmosphere couldn't have been better.

"Headliners the Edwin Starr band and Abba tribute band, Abba Chique, had the crowds up on their feet dancing and singing along."

There was something for all the family. Youngsters were kept occupied at the children's section with attractions which included Gypsy Pixie circus skill sessions and a race track with six pedal tractors.

There was also bars, food and handicraft stalls.

Found: This hammer was one of the objects discovered during the annual dig at the site of Elsyng Palace at Forty Hall

Dig unearths treasures from Tudor times

By Julia Gregory

julia.gregory@nlhnews.co.uk

ARCHAEOLOGISTS have uncovered evidence of a staircase and a cache of Tudor workers' tools buried beneath a historic Enfield estate.

The selection included a hammer with parts of its wooden handle still visible and was discovered by Enfield Archaeological Society during its annual dig at the site of the historic Elsyng Palace, which stood in the grounds where Forty Hall is now in Forty Hill.

Queen Elizabeth I and Edward VI spent part of their childhoods at the palace. They heard about the death of their father Henry VIII while they were there.

John Pinchbeck, from Enfield Archaeological Society, said the team of diggers uncovered a range of finds.

"One of the most interesting things we found was an unusual concentration of what we think may be mostly Tudor hand tools," he told the Advertiser. "Many of them were too badly corroded to identify immediately, but one was clearly a hammer, which even had traces of its original wood handle still in the socket."

Also discovered was a fragment of purple stained glass as the mid-16th-century room was excavated. Mr Pinchbeck said this was a very unusual find for the site.

The diggers also found a delicate bone hairpin. "It has a carved decoration and evidence that it was once coloured green, it is a very evocative and personal object that may once have adorned a royal head," said Mr Pinchbeck.

The team spent a week excavating the site and welcomed members of the public to have a look as part of the national festival of archaeology which runs throughout July. The excavation looked at the interior of a building which the society first uncovered two years ago. This year archaeologists wanted to learn more about the size of the building and the way it was built.

The discovery of the remains of what is thought to be the site of a wooden staircase suggests that the building had at least two floors.

Other treasures revealed during the dig include the remains of expensive coloured glazed floor tiles which were removed when the palace was demolished in 1650.

Archaeologists found pieces of green, yellow, brown and black tiling which helped them build up a picture of how the room looked in its heyday.

Mr Pinchbeck added: "We also found a number of walls, although most of these were fairly insubstantial and in some cases were only made of a thin line of roof tiles laid in mortar."

Schools get good reports

A QUARTER of Enfield schools have been rated "outstanding" following inspections by the education standards watchdog, latest figures show.

And with 23 of the borough's schools "outstanding" and 64 rated "good," Enfield is among the top-performing education authorities in England – ranked 13th in a league table of 152 councils.

More than 50,000 of the borough's 55,000 pupils go to schools in high-ranking categories. Six schools, however, require "improvement to be good" following Ofsted inspections.

Ayfer Orhan, Enfield Council's cabinet member for education, children's services and protection, congratulated the schools which have excelled in assessments and hoped others would improve before their next assessment.

She said: "There are now just a handful of schools that 'require improvement' and I know they are on course to succeed in improving their last Ofsted results."

Travellers leave parks

TRAVELLERS who set up camp in two of the borough's parks left peacefully after warnings they faced court action to evict them if they failed to move on.

A convoy of caravans moved into Durants Park, Enfield Highway, on Sunday, but left later that afternoon.

Several travellers moved their caravans to Ponders End recreation ground, where passers-by discovered them early on Monday morning and contacted Enfield Council.

Council officers warned they would seek a court order to move the travellers on if they did not do so voluntarily.

The day the riots

Shopkeepers relive the nightmare of August 7, 2011

Trapped: Dipak Shah and his brother barricaded themselves inside Healthcare Chemist as looters ran riot

By Julia Gregory

julia.gregory@nlhnews.co.uk

"IF I had been here by myself, I would probably have been killed," said pharmacist Dipak Shah, recalling the night when he and his brother were trapped inside their Enfield Town shop as a mob looted goods from the store.

Mr Shah and his brother Hitesh were doing paperwork in the shop and were unaware that police on horseback were dealing with disorder at the nearby Tesco store. However, when they went to leave, a youth ran across Southbury Road to the family-run business they founded 32 years ago and the brothers used furniture to barricade themselves in the shop as a mob of teenagers grabbed what they could from the front of Healthcare Chemist.

"They were teenagers, probably from 14 to 18 or 20. They took perfume and bracelets," he said.

In all it was estimated they took more than £700 worth of goods and caused hundreds of pounds worth of damage to the shop window, in addition to thousands of pounds in lost earnings.

Two looters went sent to prison after the incident, which was filmed by Russian TV.

The brothers made a frantic call to the police, but were told no one was available to help and stayed in the shop until 3am.

"They neglected their duty of care," said Mr Shah.

He said that no one from the police had ever visited to apologise. The pharmacy opened the next day to dispense medicines to patients and it took a week to function properly after the front windows were replaced.

Mr Shah is still chasing up some paperwork from the riots.

Five years on his message to the rioters is: "You can't get something for nothing in society. What you put in is what you get out of society. You end up in prison."

Look closely on the window beside the shop door at G Mantella jewellers in the town and you might spot a 12-inch (30cm) scar on the glass.

It's a reminder of the night when a gang forced open the barriers and made off with £40,000 worth of watches from the front window.

Police intervened to prevent them from grabbing an array of necklaces displayed in the opposite window and two people served prison sentences for their role.

Owner Erdal Mehmet keeps two photos of the riots in his back office – one showing the mob attacking the barriers at Mantella's.

He also retains a Love Enfield sticker on the front window.

"We got an alarm call when the shutter was attacked and we came straight down from Baker Street," he said.

"I've never been in a war zone, but it felt like a war situation. There were rocks in Silver Street and Baker Street. I did not think it would ever happen in Enfield."

The shop opened the following day. "I thought we are not going to let them beat us," said Mr Mehmet.

He said that people deserved a second chance and hoped that those involved had learned from their mistakes.

"I do wonder if it was a lot of herd mentality where people were seeing everybody else doing it and they didn't stop to think what they were doing," he added.

Mr Mehmet praised Enfield's resilience afterwards. "There was calm in Enfield and everyone was pulling together," he said.

Fighting fires amid the riots: Duncan Lewis, Jeff Dicks, Annie Green and Nigel Langdon

314 in Haringey and 430 in Croydon. The riots had started in Tottenham on Saturday, August 6, after anger spilled out on to the streets following the police shooting of Mark Duggan.

By the following afternoon would-be rioters on social media said Enfield would be one of the next targets.

An estimated 300 rioters tore through the streets – some of them simply caught up in the moment – as they were later to tell the courts.

They were met by 150 police, including mounted police and officers from Thames Valley.

A mob of looters attacked parts of Ponders End, Edmonton and Palmers Green as well as stores in Enfield Town where mounted police tackled the rioters.

The following night (Monday) rioters targeted the Sony warehouse at the Innova Business Park in Enfield Lock and set it alight. By 11.30pm the warehouse had gone up in smoke – in what was Europe's largest arson attack.

Firefighters in Edmonton came under attack as they dealt with nine serious blazes.

Southgate fire station manager Daniel Alie was the first senior firefighter to arrive at Sony. He had already worked a day shift and faced another 12 hours at the warehouse, which was used for data storage.

"It was an aluminium structure and there were a lot of CDs," he said. "It was unsafe for the firefighters to go inside as the aluminium was molten. Fire crews also had to evacuate the nearby Premier Inn."

"The thing that stuck in my mind was the resilience of the firefighters. Generally, you would be relieved after three hours, they did 12 hours. They did not complain and they did their best to stop it spreading."

The then Enfield North MP Nick de Bois was on the scene as rioters ran amok.

He remembered feeling "very angry as there was a huge amount of criminality".

He added: "It was bizarre, the police had closed off London Road, but there were still people coming out of the station as the trains hadn't been stopped."

Mr De Bois tried to persuade a masked youth of about 14 who was carrying a crowbar to stop. "I said this is our town, go home," he recalled.

Residents living near Silver Street urged him to tell the Prime Minister David Cameron what he had seen.

"There was no fear, there was anger," he said. "What is infuriating is the people who turned up came in their souped-up cars to go looting."

After the Sony warehouse was set alight, Home Secretary Theresa May visited and Mr Cameron intervened to ask the company's chief executive not to leave.

Last week Southgate firefighters Nigel Langdon and Jeff Dicks recalled tackling fires during the first night of the riots in Tottenham. They said it was a frightening night.

Mr Langdon said: "It was my first experience of something like that. We were just driving down the street. There was one fire after the next, we were putting them out."

Because of the riots the fire crews had to stay behind police lines and were also involved in giving police officers first aid.

Mr Dicks said: "Our windscreen got smashed. I think it was a brick. It was just part of everything that day."

Mr Langdon added: "It was shocking. What I remember of the night – it was pretty hot with fires on the left and right hand side of you."

Cloudy2Clear Announce Trusted Trader Partnership

ADVERTORIAL

Consumer champions Which? have now joined the thousands of customers who recognise that Cloudy2Clear Windows really are a business that you can TRUST. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has received the coveted 'Which? Trusted Trader' status after going through a rigorous accreditation process entirely focussed on customer service.

Group Managing Director Marcus McGee believes that Which? have endorsed Cloudy2Clear's long standing company policy of delivering the highest standards possible at all times. "Our service is simple. If your double glazing has misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 25 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Whilst a number of tradespeople perhaps don't focus on customer care as much as they should do, we make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle.

Locally Cloudy2Clear service the Enfield, Edmonton, Palmers Green, Winchmore Hill & Southgate areas and manager Richard Power agrees that this approach is a major factor in his success. "The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated as both my customers and, obviously a body as nationally important as Which? now recognise."

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give Richard a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

Leftside

THERE'S nothing new about Labour's troubles. Left-wing constituency activists; right-wing voters; career-minded MP's – that's the way it's been throughout the party's history. So why the sudden media frenzy over Jeremy Corbyn?

Years ago, Mr Corbyn would have been regarded as a harmless eccentric, even as a national treasure.

Now, he is being accused of a long list of crimes – not just wearing beige and forgetting the national anthem, but anti-Semitism, brick-throwing, cyber-bullying, racism, sexism, treason... no doubt paedophilia and cruelty to animals will be added before long.

Meanwhile, outside Sports Direct at Edmonton Green, a security man keeps a careful watch on passing shoppers. He needn't worry too much – this is Britain, after all.

In any other country, an employer like Sports Direct could expect to face angry protests.

Here, we think politics is something that only happens in parliament, not in the street, or in the shopping mall.

No-one would mistake Mr Corbyn for a street agitator. He is a purely parliamentary figure.

But the excitement generated by his leadership campaign might just spill over into extra-parliamentary campaigning – strikes, sit-ins, etc.

That is why big business and its supporters in the media (and inside Mr Corbyn's own party) are out to get him.

Take the veg pledge to help fight bowel cancer

I'D like to let your readers know about a new charity initiative called the Veg Pledge which people across the country are getting involved with this summer.

All you need to do is give up meat and fish for a week and donate what you would have spent to support the charity Beating Bowel Cancer.

To make it even easier the charity has developed a Veg Pledge Calculator, which helps you to work out how much you would save based on your average weekly consumption and where you shop.

It's a great way to encourage people to look at their diet and spending habits and raise funds to help those affected by bowel cancer at the same time. It's only for a week but participants could learn a lot about what they eat and spend their money on, as well as support a great cause. It's a real win-win situation for those who take part.

Learning to live without meat occasionally could also be good for your health as there is strong evidence to suggest that eating too much red and processed meat can increase the risk of developing the disease.

Bowel cancer is the UK's second biggest cancer killer. There are a number of factors known to increase your chances of being diagnosed with the disease. Some you can't change – such as your age and family history. However, you can reduce your risk by cutting down on red meat and processed food, exercising, quitting smoking and reducing your alcohol intake.

For more information and/or to sign up for the Veg Pledge, visit beatingbowelcancer.org

Why didn't you object prior to the election?

TERRY Neville's comment piece (Advertiser, July 27) shows just why we shouldn't trust him to lead Enfield Council.

As we are discovering, we don't actually know what Brexit means, only that it means different things to different people, and we still have no idea how it will be implemented.

While he claims to represent Enfield, his views are at odds with ours as Enfield voted to remain – but he may be right that people, particularly in the north of England, distrust politicians and were simply sticking two fingers up at the (Conservative) government and the years of austerity.

But my objection is his linking that distrust with the Enfield Mini-Holland scheme and his claims about electoral mandates. For those interested, the Enfield Mini-Holland bid, from December 2013, is available on the Internet. It was quite clearly a joint party bid with the cycle routes largely as they are now being implemented. It was jointly signed by the Conservatives in opposition.

During the local election campaign, I don't remember either party discussing it much – in either the manifestos or press releases – so whichever main party you voted for, you would have expected Mini-Holland to be implemented.

So the question is – if the Conservative had won the local election, would they have implemented the scheme?

As the answer seems to be no, then who is it we should distrust? I would have thought the party that says one thing before an election and does something else afterwards – step forward the current Conservative leader, Mr Neville. Now if you want to maintain a shred of credibility the right thing to do would be to help implement something the Conservatives promised, which means, stop moaning and start promoting the (democratically elected) mayor's scheme?

Ward councillors take concerns on board at regular meetings

THE councillors in Southgate ward regularly hold a forum for constituents at the Methodist church in The Bourne.

Information on the dates and time are available on the Enfield Council website. These meetings usually include a police report on local activity as well as comprehensive discussion of other changes within the area.

Among other things the subject of moving the current Southgate library was brought up some months ago and Michael Clary ("Empty shelves tell different story", Advertiser, July 27) would have had an opportunity to ask further questions and express his concerns at that time.

I attend most of these meetings – as do some of my neighbours. We have always found our councillors – Edward Smith, Robert Haywood and Daniel Pearce – very willing to listen to their constituents and while they may not be able to change a situation, most certainly they take these concerns on board and ask appropriate questions at the relevant department at the civic centre.

I urge every constituent to attend these forums and get involved.

You can't turn back the clock

CYCLE Enfield is to spend £41million of taxpayers' money on just four locations and hopes it will encourage people to give up their cars to cycle, ride in a bus or walk.

Where is the evidence this will happen? In fact, the government admits that all modes of transport, apart from the car, will decline in popularity between now and 2040. That is why they are investing £15billion in road improvements.

Enfield Council is pressing on regardless, putting cycle lanes on roads not wide enough, causing traffic congestion at bus stops and endangering bus passengers.

We have a situation where the people's choice is the car and the only solution is to improve road space for its use and remove petty restrictions.

My comments will upset the cycle lobby, but many more people use a car instead of a bicycle and it is not possible to turn the clock back.

GA Musey
Mitchell Road,
Palmers Green

This does have wide support

DISCUSSING Cycle Enfield, Councillor Terry Neville writes of public cynicism about the council's implementation endeavours and its absence of an electoral mandate, and claims it is actually against the wishes of the people (Advertiser, July 27).

He could do worse than read the borough's winning bid, which had the full backing of his party and confirmed its total engagement and support from the outset. He may find colleagues who will point out that had they, rather than Labour, won the local election they would now be implementing the very same winning proposal.

Current issues such as traffic congestion and meeting the transport needs of a growing population will not disappear because Mr Neville now doesn't like the London-wide strategic reply to such common challenges. It's surely better for this borough to continue seeking an optimal solution from the waiting investment rather than his party following what could be all too easily viewed as a cynical change of tack.

Fatal beating: Man is jailed for six years

By Russ Lawrence

russ.lawrence@nlhnews.co.uk

A MAN who brutally beat his victim to death in an Enfield street has been jailed for six years.

Sean Gomez, 48, of Addison Road, Enfield Highway, who had previously been found guilty by a jury of the manslaughter of 47-year-old Mustafa Lanleyin, was sentenced at the Old Bailey on Friday.

Mr Lanleyin was attacked close to his home in Cherry Road, Enfield Highway, on September 29 last year following an argument in the street with Gomez.

The victim had left his house with two friends and became involved in a verbal altercation with Gomez, sparked by Mr Lanleyin asking Gomez: "What are you looking at?"

It quickly escalated to violence with Gomez grabbing and headbutting Mr Lanleyin before kicking him as he lay on the ground.

Before dragging the dying man's body to a bin area, he sought to justify the attack to the two men who had been with Mr Lanleyin before all three of them left him lying there critically injured.

Mr Lanleyin was found by a passing woman a short while afterwards at about 9.10pm. An ambulance was called and he was pronounced dead at 9.41pm. A post-mortem examination established the cause of death as blunt force trauma to the head.

Gomez was arrested by detectives from the Metropolitan Police's Homicide and Crime Command the next day and charged shortly after.

Mr Lanleyin was single and unemployed at the time of his death, the court heard, with a stepdaughter and stepson, neither of whom lived with him.

Guilty: Sean Gomez, above, was convicted of the manslaughter of Mustafa Lanleyin, below

Fireman Duncan takes his final salute after 32 years

ANNE-MARIE SANDERSON

Bowing out: Duncan Lewis, right, is retiring from the London Fire Brigade after spending the last 27 years at Southgate fire station, where the salutes were led by former watch manager Jerry Barker and former borough commander Les Bowman, left

By Julia Gregory

julia.gregory@nlhnews.co.uk

DESPITE having the windscreen of an engine smashed during the London riots firefighter Duncan Lewis, who has just retired, said: "I've had the time of my life."

The Southgate watch manager was treated to a surprise final roll call at the fire station in High Street attended by his family – and his former boss Les Bowman, who retired earlier in July, also visited the fire station for the event last Thursday.

He told Mr Lewis: "It has been a privilege to work with you."

Mr Lewis, 50, has served in the London Fire Brigade for 32 years, the last 27 at Southgate.

During the ceremony colleagues sounded the alarm to give him a send-off in style – 30 seconds for every year of service.

His boss station manager Daniel Alie praised his colleague's dedication, professionalism and service and said: "He is Southgate fire station. He will be missed. He knows the area intimately and has trained generations of firefighters."

Mr Lewis told his colleagues: "I have had the time of my life. It's like family. The last 27 years at Southgate I have worked with some of the finest firefighters."

He moved to Chandos Drive, in Southgate, as an 11-year-old with his family including firefighter father Cliff, who was at the station to see his son retire.

Mr Lewis served as team leader who had the responsibility of leading crews into fires.

He said that one of his most memorable jobs was firefighting at the Tottenham riots five years ago.

He recalled: "We were mobilised to Edmonton fire station on the Saturday night."

"It was one of the most frightening experiences I have ever had in the fire brigade. We were behind the police lines. We were administering first aid to police officers. We had our windscreen smashed. I have never been in such a volatile situation. It was horrendous."

Before he joined the fire service he played football for Enfield as a goalkeeper in the youth and reserve teams and is looking forward to spending time "at my beloved Enfield Town" during his retirement.

He started his career at Manchester Square fire station, in central London, in 1984 and spent time at Soho fire station before he was transferred to Southgate.

He added that he would be looking for another career, perhaps as a fire brigade trainer.

Tickets up for grabs for revamped classic

BREAKFAST at Tiffany's, Truman Capote's classic tale of Holly Golightly, who was so memorably portrayed by Audrey Hepburn in the iconic 1961 film, is being given a new lease of life as a stage play with music in a sparkling, sophisticated production starring the multi award-winning Pixie Lott.

Adapted by Pulitzer Prize finalist and Tony and Olivier award-winning playwright Richard Greenberg and directed by Nikolai Foster, this tale of vivacious, good-time girl Holly and her fantastical existence in 1940s' New York City is told through the eyes of a young writer named Fred, played by Matt Barber (Down-ton Abbey), who is completely fascinated by this exquisite extrovert who every woman wants to be and every man wants to be with.

With memorable songs from the era, this stylish production is set to capture the hearts of audiences and sparkle like a diamond in a Tiffany's window.

Following a tour of the UK and Ireland, Breakfast at Tiffany's is having a 12-week run until September 17 at the Theatre Royal Haymarket, in London.

One return every retailer will welcome

We recently commissioned the effectiveness consultancy Benchmarking to analyse what happens when a company includes press advertising in their media mix.

They examined over 500 econometric models, covering a five-year period.

In the retail sector they analysed results from supermarkets, department stores and high street chains.

And they found that adding newspapers dramatically boosts other media, increasing the overall effectiveness of the entire campaign, by up to 2.8 times.

In an industry where a few percentage points are often seized on as a signal of runaway success or imminent disaster, this is a truly remarkable return on investment.

And as the table here shows, retail is far from the only category where newspapers deliver outstanding results.

Just Joshing

By Russ Lawrence

russ.lawrence@nlhnews.co.uk

IT'S the frustrations of ordinary everyday life which send curly-haired comic Josh Widdicombe into a tizz.

The popular young stand-up, a familiar face on TV as one third of The Last Leg line-up, brings his exasperated, self-deprecating brand of observational humour to Wylyotts Theatre, in Darkes Lane, Potters Bar, on Wednesday.

Petty gripes ranging from useless phone batteries to measly helpings of super noodles or the perils of contactless payments provide fertile material for the 32-year-old Devonian in his What do I do Now... show currently on a UK tour.

The subject matter may sound mundane, but the humour has a universal appeal. It engenders a flicker of recognition in everyone of us, so we all share the joke.

And that includes disbelief and amusement at memories of things we collectively used to do or once owned.

Like, for example, the sheer joy experienced as a schoolboy when teacher wheeled a hulking great TV into the classroom, on which you didn't mind watching a mind-numbingly boring documentary if it meant not having to do any work.

Josh has had his own TV sitcom, as well making appearances on TV's Mock the Week, QI, Live at the Apollo, Have I Got News For You and The Jonathan Ross Show.

He is also a presenter of Radio 5 Live's legendary Saturday morning sports programme Fighting Talk.

"As a stand-up, you naturally talk about what's interesting you, so at Wylyotts I'll be discussing what's annoying me right now," he said.

"But I'll also be doing a lot about growing up in Devon in the 1990s.

"At my primary school, there were only four children in my year. It was a very different experience from a lot of other people," he explains, "so I'll be doing some comparing and contrasting with how I live now.

"I've never done stand-up about politics or human rights. That's not what I talk about on a day-to-day basis with my mates, so why would I go on stage and talk about it?" he added.

Rebels with a cause – havoc!

SUICIDE SQUAD (15, 123 mins)

IT'S good to be bad – unspeakably bad – in David Ayer's action-packed fantasy based on the anarchic DC Comics anti-heroes of the same name, which is poised to smash box office records on the other side of the Atlantic.

Scheming US government agent Amanda Waller (Viola Davis) hatches a diabolical scheme to round up some of the most dangerous incarcerated criminals in the world and use them to carry out covert missions with a limited chance of success.

Misfit members of Task Force X – or the Suicide Squad as it becomes known – will be kept in check with micro-bombs implanted in their necks.

Anyone who defies authority or strays from the mission brief will be swiftly terminated. By completing their tasks, the group members can reduce their sentences.

This ragtag bunch of sadistic oddballs includes hunky team leader Rick Flag (Joel Kinnaman), expert marksman Floyd Lawton (Will Smith) aka Deadshot, twisted former psychologist Harleen Quinzel (Margot Robbie) aka Harley Quinn, unpredictable assassin Digger Harkness (Jai Courtney) aka Boomerang, flame-conjuring one-time gang member Chato Santana (Jay Hernandez) aka El Diablo, disfigured cannibal Waylan Jones (Adewale Akinnuoye-Agbaje) aka Killer Croc, master of ropes Christopher Weiss (Adam Beach) aka Slipknot and elite swordswoman Tatsu Yamashiro (Karen Fukuhara) aka Katana.

The squad thrives on violence and bloodshed and rises to the challenge of unravelling the mystery of a possessed archaeologist (Cara Delevingne), whose powers threaten to reduce Gotham to rubble.

Meanwhile, a battle rages on the city streets between masked vigilante Batman (Ben Affleck) and demented supervillain The Joker (Jared Leto taking the poison chalice in following the late Heath Ledger) who conducts his reign of terror flanked by henchmen Jonny Frost (Jim Parrack) and Monster T (Common).

Ike Barinholtz and Scott Eastwood also appear in secret, pivotal roles.

Released: August 5

Transform Your Home With This Season's Top Trends

Summer has officially begun and whilst the sun may not always be shining, homeowners can bring a touch of summer indoors with a host of new and exciting design trends to liven up their homes. If you're looking for inspiration, CALA Homes, which has a collection of professionally-styled showhomes at its Millbrook Park in Mill Hill has put together some design hints and tips to give your home a fresh new look this season.

Perfect pastels

Pastels are back in fashion and perfectly suited for summer interiors. They're an easy way to bring calm and softness to a room – think dove grey, light green and creamy blues, which work beautifully when all mixed together in different patterns and textures.

Pink is set to be one of the biggest colour trends of year. Dusty, pastel shades are being used as the new neutral, adding a subtle warmth and colour to a room without clashing.

Join the navy

Although pastels and pinks are the neutral of choice, the colour of the season is undoubtedly navy blue. It's a very versatile colour that offers the perfect balanced between a masculine and feminine look. Pair it with chalk white for a French country feel or combine with muted blues and greens for a coastal look.

The rattan effect

As part of this year's 'global inspiration' trend, rattan pieces of furniture and accessories are must-have products. It's a versatile, lightweight and sustainable material that now comes in a variety of colours and styles – ideal for any light, bright open-plan space or contemporary conservatory.

Go botanic

Bringing the outside in continues to be a key theme, and this summer will offer a really fresh take on the tropical look. Plants are the perfect accessory to inject some life into a room that you may have thought needed some TLC for a while. For the less green fingered, look for stunning botanical prints and palm leaf motifs in wallpaper or fabrics.

Past modern

Add a subtle quirkiness to your room by incorporating trends from the past and future. Think traditionally shaped vintage furniture, filigree patterns and tassel trims with modern colour schemes. When choosing your hero piece look for splayed legs, rounded finishes, wing backs and clean lines. To create an eclectic look pair with accessory pieces like mirrors and clocks inspired by the Art Deco movement – look for geometric lines and glamorous sparkling finishes.

Taking everything in its stride

By Andrew Evans

PERHAPS the most indelible image of Volvo is the large estate car – and the new V90 exemplifies it.

Based on the same scalable platform as the very successful second-generation XC90, the V90 – and its saloon brother the S90 – is the second model in Volvo's rejuvenation.

The all-new V90 will be coming to the UK with the same 2.0-litre D5 diesel as you'll find in the XC90, to be joined by a hybrid-electric petrol T8 model later in the year.

There's no getting away from the fact the V90 is an incredibly imposing car on the road. It's rather large, coming in at just under five metres nose to tail and a fraction over two metres across the mirrors, but it's not just the size that gives it serious presence.

The "Thor's Hammer" headlights and concave grille, along with the redesigned Volvo logo – all of which debuted on the XC90 – generate an overall image that exudes confidence.

Opt for the Inscription trim and the grille is chromed, too. Cabin space is just as vast as you might expect. Rear legroom is particularly impressive with even a leggy supermodel able to fit in the back without any danger of running out of space. A fifth occupant might not have such a great time, with a fairly broad central tunnel to straddle, but otherwise there is plenty of space front and back.

It's a traditionally Volvo-esque boot, too. There's a powered tailgate as standard and it reveals a nicely uniform opening with a low and flush lip. Boot space is 560 litres in standard configuration, with the back seats folding flat by a single button each in the boot.

A 13-gallon (60-litre) fuel tank gives the 57.6mpg V90 D5 a range of just over 750 miles between fuel stops.

Equipped with the D5, the V90 is quite a brisk beast, with 60mph coming up in just under seven seconds. This is helped along with the "PowerPulse" feature, which is, in essence, an electric supercharger.

Using electric power to compress air, it spools the turbocharger up at low engine speeds in low gears to reduce any lag as you'd normally have to wait for exhaust gases to do the job.

Set to Dynamic mode, the 1.8-tonne V90 makes for a very capable point-to-point machine as it will need to be when the 401bhp T8 Twin Engine model arrives later in the year, but while you'll have to be going some before you run out of available grip, it almost feels wrong to do so.

Slot it back into Comfort or Eco and the V90 becomes a supreme cruiser, taking everything in its stride. On a gentle 75mph lope down a Spanish autopista, we recorded interior sound at under 70dB, so it'll be easy to maintain conversation.

It wouldn't be a Volvo if it wasn't filled with safety kit and the V90 meets targets. As standard, the V90 packs in city safety, pedestrian and large animal detection, adaptive cruise control and a run-off-road prevention system that detects the offside of the road and keeps you from crossing it inadvertently. Volvo also fits pilot assist as standard, allowing the car to maintain its speed and lane positioning at up to 80mph and decelerating automatically as appropriate to traffic conditions – even to rest. Navigation, an eight-inch TFT screen, two-zone climate control, DAB radio, heated front seats and LED headlights are all standard kit, as is the power tailgate.

The V90 range starts at £34,555 for the D4-engined Momentum model, rising to £44,055 for the D5 PowerPulse Inscription we tested. It's broadly comparable to what Volvo terms its German rivals, but noses ahead on equipment levels.

North London & Herts Newspapers

CONDITIONS OF ACCEPTANCE FOR ALL ADVERTISEMENTS

Orders are accepted by the Publishers subject to the Standard Conditions agreed between the Newspaper Society and the Institute of Practitioners in Advertising. Save that:

1. Advertisements are accepted on the conditions that (a) descriptions relating to goods are accurate and in no way contravene the provisions of the Trade Descriptions Act 1968, and the Fair Trading Act 1973, and (b) the copy complies with the British Code of Advertising Practice. Advertisements offering credit or hire facilities must conform to the Consumer Credit (Advertisements) Regulations 1980.

2. Classified Advertisers offering goods or services of a business, commercial or trade nature will, at the discretion of the Publishers, be deemed 'Trade Advertisers', and as such, must include their names in advertisements. A telephone number is an optional addition to these requirements and not an alternative.

3. To comply with the Business Advertisements (Disclosure) Order 1977, Trade Advertisers must make it clear that they are selling goods in the course of business either by content, format, size or place of the advertisement or by including words such as 'trade', 'dealer', 'agent', 'wholesaler', 'IT' etc. in the advertisement.

4. The Publishers accept no liability whatsoever for any loss or damage however caused arising out of:

- (a) Any error, inaccuracy or omission in the printing or publishing of any advertisement;

- (b) Any failure to publish an advertisement on the day / date or day / dates specified by the advertiser; or

- (c) Any delay in forwarding or omission to forward replies to box numbers to the Advertiser.

5. The Publishers will endeavour to publish advertisements on the day / date or day / dates specified by the Advertiser but insertion days / dates cannot be guaranteed.

6. Where shrinkage of advertisement occurs for whatever reasons the advertisement will be charged to the nearest full centimetre. This will NOT apply to the full-page advertisements, which remain full pages even after shrinkage.

7. The Publishers reserve the right to reject an advertisement or to vary it in any way they deem fit, at any time before publication, whether or not the advertisement has already been accepted for publication.

8. Whilst every effort is made to minimise errors in advertisements, mistakes do sometimes occur. Advertisers or their agents should therefore check their advertisements and inform us of any errors immediately. Responsibility cannot be accepted for more than one incorrect insertion. Typographical or minor changes, which do not affect the value of the advertisement, do not qualify for republication or allowances.

9. All gross advertising rates (except classified listings and semi-classified) are subject to and include a 0.1% Advertising Standards Board of Finance surcharge, payable by the advertisers to help finance the self-regulatory control system administered by the Advertising Standards Authority.

10. All rates quoted are subject to VAT at the rate currently in force at the time the advertisement appears.

11. Should the rate for advertisements be altered the price for remaining insertions shall be revised accordingly or the publishers shall have the right to cancel the unexpired portion of the order.

12. The placing of an advertisement order will be deemed an acceptance of these conditions.

13. Account facilities are granted at the discretion of the Company.

14. All accounts must be settled within the terms agreed by the Company and the Customer.

- (1) Should an advertiser be in breach of the agreed terms, the publisher shall be entitled to levy a 10% surcharge on the value of the whole debt in respect of accounts with terms of less than 30 days, and any discounts or commissions that had been allowed will be reclaimed.

- (2) Regular monthly accounts that are in breach of the agreed terms will pay an interest rate of 6% above the current bank of England base rate for each month that the account is overdue and discounts or commissions that had been allowed will be reclaimed. Should legal action be required the interest will be charged in accordance with the County Court Act 1984.

15. Where an advertiser instructs / appoints an advertising agent to act on their behalf, the advertiser will remain jointly and severally liable for payment in respect for an advertisement(s) should the appointed agent fail to pay. For the avoidance of doubt, the agent acts for the advertiser and not for the publisher with the agent being responsible for notifying the advertiser of this liability.

16. All queries must be notified, preferably in writing to the accounts department of the publisher within 7 days of the invoice date.

17. All digital services are maintained in partnership with the publishers' hosting service providers. Every effort is made to ensure the continuity of these services, but some occasional technical downtime beyond the publishers' control may occur. The publisher and its associated companies shall be under no liability if the production and distribution of web services is delayed or prevented by any cause beyond the control of the publisher.

18. The Publisher may provide voucher copies for published advertisements in electronic form only subject to certain criteria. Further information is available on request.

19. The copyright of advertisements produced wholly or partially by the Publishers belong to the Publishers. Advertisers may not reproduce such advertisements without the Publishers' consent.

Box Numbers

Boxes are open for the receipt of bona fide answers and are not available for distribution of trade canvassing matter. Original testimonials, goods, cash, cash receipts or payments of any kind must not be enclosed. A box number and postal address are charged as part of the advertisement, i.e. Box No., centre address. There is no charge for forwarding replies.

Box numbers alone are not available for use in 'Trade' advertisements, other than Employment and Business Opportunities.

Holiday & Travel Category

All advertising must contain the name of the advertiser, phone number alone are not permitted.

Data Protection

The service you have requested may require us to carry out a credit search of a credit-referencing agency, which will record the fact that a search has been made. We may need to share your information with other lenders and credit reference agencies. However, we will only use the information from these searches to make credit-granting decisions and, if necessary, for fraud prevention or tracing debtors.

Data controller will use your information for administration and analysis. We may share your information with other Capital Media Newspapers Ltd or carefully selected third parties. We, or they, may send you details of other goods and services, which may be of interest to you. The information may be provided by letter, telephone or other reasonable means of communication. Calls may be recorded or monitored for training purposes.

Special conditions apply with regard to the advertising of adult services, which are outlined to all persons submitting such advertisements.

ADULT INTERESTS

Calls cost £1.55 per/min at all times. Mobile/payphones call charges may vary! Service provided by JMedia UK, London SW4 7BX. Help? call 0207 720 7130 w/c 01/08/16

LICENSING ACT 2003
NOTICE OF APPLICATION FOR A PREMISES LICENCE
Notice is hereby given that Chicken Town has applied to the Licensing Authority of London Borough of Haringey for a Premises Licence to permit: Off sales of alcohol for the premises Chicken Town, situated at The Old Fire Station, Town Hall approach Road N15 4RX.
A register of licensing applications can be inspected at Licensing Team, Alexandra House, Level 6, 10 Station Road, London, N22 7TR.
Any person wishing to submit relevant representations concerning this application must give notice in writing to the London Borough of Haringey, Licensing team at the above address, giving in detail the grounds of the representation no later than: 09/08/2016.
Copies of all representations will be included in the papers presented to the Licensing Authorities Sub Committee and will therefore pass into the public domain.
Representations can be emailed to: licensing@haringey.gov.uk
Representations must relate to one or more of the four Licensing Objectives: the prevention of crime and disorder, public safety, the prevention of public nuisance and the protection of children from harm.
It is an offence liable on conviction to a fine up to £5000 under section 158 of the Licensing Act 2003 knowingly or recklessly to make a false statement in connection with an application.
Dated this 01 day of August 2016.
Signed Ben Rymer

CONDITIONS OF ACCEPTANCE FOR ALL ADVERTISEMENTS

Orders are accepted by the Publishers subject to the Standard Conditions agreed between the Newspaper Society and the Institute of Practitioners in Advertising. Save that:

- Advertisements are accepted on the conditions that (a) descriptions relating to goods are accurate and in no way contravene the provisions of the Trade Descriptions Act 1968, and the Fair Trading Act 1973, and (b) the copy complies with the British Code of Advertising Practice. Advertisements offering credit or hire facilities must conform to the Consumer Credit (Advertisements) Regulations 1980.
- 'Classified' Advertisers offering goods or service of a business, commercial or trade nature will, at the discretion of the Publishers, be deemed 'Trade Advertisers', and as such, must include their names in advertisements. A telephone number is an optional addition to these requirements and not an alternative.
- To comply with the Business Advertisements (Disclosure) Order 1977, Trade Advertisers must make it clear that they are selling goods in the course of business either by content, format, size or place of the advertisement or by including words such as 'trade', 'dealer', 'agent', 'wholesaler', '(TT)' etc. in the advertisement.
- The Publishers accept no liability whatsoever for any loss or damage however caused arising out of:
(a) Any error, inaccuracy or omission in the printing or publishing of any advertisement;
(b) Any failure to publish an advertisement on the day / date or day / dates specified by the advertiser; or
(c) Any delay in forwarding or omission to forward replies to box numbers to the Advertiser.
- The Publishers will endeavour to publish advertisements on the day / date or day / dates specified by the Advertiser but insertion days / dates cannot be guaranteed.
- Where shrinkage of advertisement occurs for whatever reasons the advertisement will be charged to the nearest full centimetre. This will NOT apply to the full-page advertisements, which remain full pages even after shrinkage.
- The Publishers reserve the right to reject an advertisement or to vary it in any way they deem fit, at any time before publication, whether or not the advertisement has already been accepted for publication.
- Whilst every effort is made to minimise errors in advertisements, mistakes do sometimes occur. Advertisers or their agents should therefore check their advertisements and inform us of any errors immediately. Responsibility cannot be accepted for more than one incorrect insertion. Typographical or similar changes, which do not affect the value of the advertisement, do not qualify for republishing or allowances.
- All press advertising rates (except classified listings and semi-displays) are subject to and include a 0.1% Advertising Standards Board of Finance surcharge, payable by the advertisers to help finance the self-regulatory control system administered by the Advertising Standards Authority.
- All rates quoted are subject to VAT at the rate currently in force at the time the advertisement appears.
- Should the rate for advertisements be altered the price for remaining insertions shall be revised accordingly or the publishers shall have the right to cancel the unexpired portion of the order.
- The placing of an advertisement order will be deemed an acceptance of these conditions.
- Account facilities are granted at the discretion of the Company.
- All accounts must be settled within the terms agreed by the Company and the Customer.
(1) Should an advertiser be in breach of the agreed terms, the publisher shall be entitled to levy a 10% surcharge on the value of the whole debt in respect of accounts with terms of less than 30 days, and any discounts or commissions that had been allowed will be rescinded.
(2) Regular monthly accounts that are in breach of the agreed terms will pay an interest rate of 6% above the current bank of England base rate for each month that the account is overdue and discounts or commissions that had been allowed will be reclaimed. Should legal action be required the interest will be charged in accordance with the County Court Act 1984.
- Where an advertiser instructs / appoints an advertising agent to act on their behalf, the advertiser will remain jointly and severally liable for payment in respect for an advertisement(s) should the appointed agent fail to pay. For the avoidance of doubt, the agent acts for the advertiser and not for the publisher with the agent being responsible for notifying the advertiser of this liability.
- All queries must be notified, preferably in writing to the accounts department of the publisher within 7 days of the invoice date.
- All digital services are maintained in partnership with the publishers' hosting service providers. Every effort is made to ensure the continuity of these services, but some occasional technical downtime beyond the publishers control may occur. The publisher and its associated companies shall be under no liability if the production and distribution of web services is delayed or prevented by any cause beyond the control of the publisher.
- The Publisher may provide voucher copies for published advertisements in electronic form only subject to certain criteria. Further information is available on request.
- The copyright of advertisements produced wholly or partially by the Publishers belong to the Publishers. Advertisers may not reproduce such advertisements without the Publishers' consent.

Box Numbers
Boxes are open for the receipt of bona fide answers and are not available for distribution of trade canvassing matter. Original testimonials, goods, cash, cash stamps or payments of any kind must not be enclosed. A box Number and postal address are charged as part of the advertisement, i.e. Box No., centre address. There is no charge for forwarding replies.
Box numbers alone are not available for use in 'Trade' advertisements, other than Employment and Business Opportunities.

Holiday & Travel Category
All advertising must contain the name of the advertiser, phone number alone are not permitted.

Data Protection
The service you have requested may require us to carry out a credit search at a credit-referencing agency, which will record the fact that a search has been made. We may need to share your information with other lenders and credit reference agencies. However, we will only use the information from these searches to make credit-granting decisions and, if necessary, for fraud prevention or tracing purposes.
Data controller will use your information for administration and analysis. We may share your information with other Capital Media Newspapers Ltd or carefully selected third parties. We, or they, may send you details of other goods and services, which may be of interest to you. The information may be provided by letter, telephone or other reasonable means of communication. Calls may be recorded or monitored for training purposes.
Special conditions apply with regard to the advertising of adult services, which are outlined to all persons submitting such advertisements.

info

We'll give you the best of both worlds...every week, all week!

In this rapidly moving technological age people are finding new ways to advertise, especially online via the internet. But contrary to what online sites are saying and common assumptions, print advertising is not dead. There are still benefits and disadvantages to both methods and the best way to succeed is to find a vehicle that covers both bases - and that's where we come in!

The Benefits of print advertising:

1. Print adverts last longer and will be seen often.
2. They will be seen by a large number of people and have the ability to hit a specific audience.
3. There is a more creative potential with print advertising.
4. There is a positive perception of newspaper advertising - it will encourage people to think the client is serious.

The Benefits of online advertising:

1. The advert content can be easily updated.
2. It's online 24/7, 12 months a year, all round the world.
3. A massive audience, with all ages now online.
4. Very quick response - you can be receiving candidates hours after posting your advert.

The Advertiser series of newspapers is distributed every week and the latest editions can be found on our website at

Fine win boosts North Middlesex's bid to claim the title

NORTH MIDDLESEX gave a huge boost to their hopes of being crowned champions of the Premier Division of the Middlesex County Cricket League by securing a hugely impressive eight-wicket win at home to Richmond on Saturday.

The hosts went into the match lying top of the table but slipped to third as a result of the defeat, while North Middlesex – who remain fourth – are just eight points adrift of new leaders Southgate.

Abhishek Jhunjhunwala (50) and Ben Compton (39) added 79 for Richmond's third wicket after both openers fell cheaply, but the bowlers then began to take control – with Alex Griffiths (58) the only other man to reach double figures as the hosts were dismissed for 176.

Joel Hughes (3-34), Tom Nicoll (3-50), Ed Bird (2-29) and Will Nicoll (2-34) shared the wickets between them.

Joe Cracknell (87 not out) played superbly for North Middlesex in reply to ensure that they encountered few problems in reaching their target, sharing in stands of 56 for the second wicket with Rob Fahrenheit (18) and an unbroken 111 for the third wicket with Evan Flowers (48 not out) as they eased to 177-2.

Meanwhile, Hornsey romped to a seven-wicket win at home to Harrow St Mary's to climb up into second place in Division Two.

A stunning performance with the ball and in the field set the hosts up for the victory as Harrow St Mary's crumbled to 64 all out, with Nii-Amaa Ollenu (5-27) leading the way.

Hornsey then encountered few problems in easing to 65-3 in reply to give a boost to their promotion hopes.

And Highgate secured an equally important victory in the second division, edging to a one-wicket triumph at home to relegation rivals Acton which saw them climb out of the drop zone.

Sandun Dias (4-57) and Craig Gourlay (3-39) impressed with the ball as Acton collapsed to 58-7 before Tom Forsdike (50 not out) and Alex Brennan (46) launched a lower-order fightback which saw them get up to 175.

Highgate's top three all scored ducks as Brennan (6-52) continued his fine day by reducing them to 31-5, but Robin Glassberg (48) helped the hosts to get back on track and they managed to make it to 176-9 to seal a vital triumph.

Elsewhere, North London slipped to a three-wicket defeat at table-topping Winchmore Hill in Division Three.

Will Lake (51) played well in the face of some excellent bowling from Jack Henson (6-41) as North London amassed 152 batting first, but Jim Gattling's 61 helped Hill to reach 154-7 in reply.

North Middlesex visit Southgate on Saturday, while Highgate go to Barnes, Hornsey make the trip to Wembley and North London host MTSSC.

Skolars are beaten again in Super 8s

THE London Skolars' disappointing start to rugby league's Kingstone Press Super 8s continued on Saturday when they were beaten 38-28 at home by Rochdale Hornets.

The Skolars had lost their opening match in the event to Hunslet Hawks the week before, and they were always struggling in this encounter following a blistering start from the visitors which saw them race into an 18-0 lead.

Warren Thompson opened the scoring for Rochdale by latching on to Ben Moore's pass and crashing over the line, before Jono Smith touched down twice in quick succession to put them in complete control. All three tries were converted by Danny Yates.

The hosts finally opened their account when Oscar Thomas collected his own chip over the top to score a try which he converted, but Rochdale cancelled this out almost immediately as Smith completed a quick-fire hat-trick.

Yates converted and also added the extra two points after Jordan Case scored on the stroke of the interval to leave the visitors 30-6 ahead.

The second half saw an improved display from the hosts and tries from Billy Driver and John Paxton – either side of a Yates penalty – gave them a glimmer of hope.

Rochdale were not to be denied though and a breakaway score from Wayne English effectively settled the outcome, with Yates maintaining his perfect record with the boot by adding the conversion.

The Skolars showed good spirit in the closing stages and brought a degree of respectability to the final scoreline as Paxton collected Jy-mel Coleman's kick to touch down before Erjon Dollapi scored at the death. Thomas added the conversion with the final kick of the match.

The London Skolars' next match is at Keighley Cougars on August 14.

VERTONGHEN ON THE MEND

By Dominique Stafford

sport.enfield@nlhnews.co.uk

TOTTENHAM HOTSPUR have not given up hope that key defender Jan Vertonghen will be fit in time for the start of the Premier League season.

The Belgian international centre-back had been predicted to miss Spurs' league opener at Everton on August 13 after suffering an ankle injury during Euro 2016.

However, Vertonghen has made a faster than expected recovery and, speaking during Tottenham's pre-season tour to Australia over the weekend, head coach Mauricio Pochettino admitted it is possible that he will be available for selection.

"Jan is back in London and training well now," he said. "He is very close to coming back. We'll see when we arrive back and start to train with the whole group, but if it's not possible we have enough players to replace him."

Meanwhile, Pochettino insisted that he had been happy with Tottenham's performances even though they were beaten in both their pre-season matches in Australia.

Spurs slipped to a 2-1 defeat at the hands of Italian giants Juventus on Tuesday last week and followed this up with a 1-0 reversal at the hands of Atletico Madrid on Friday, despite dominating much of the match.

But Pochettino was pleased with what he saw from his players and was full of praise for their display against Atletico.

"Everyone can see it was a fantastic performance," he said. "It was another friendly game, it was important for us and we take a lot of positives."

"We've played two class clubs in Juventus, the best team in Italy, and Atletico Madrid, who have played two Champions League finals in the last three years. They had eight players on the pitch who started in the final against Real Madrid in May.

"We managed the game, had possession and played with a lot of personality. Now we're happy to go back to London and to meet our players who were involved in the Euros and, all together, prepare for the season. We're excited about starting in the Champions League – that is fantastic for the club and for the players."

"I'm happy because we finished with nine players who have come through the academy against Atletico and that is special."

"It was a fantastic experience for us – training hard, a lot of positives and I'm happy with the performance of the whole team, especially the younger players. It was a great experience for them to improve and learn."

Pochettino added: "We need to analyse the games now but I'm happy because it's all positive, both games were good for us to compete and learn. It was a great experience for everyone."
